Vigorous Appeal Is Made By Rusk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk made a vigorous appeal Friday to the Senate to reverse deep House cuts in foreign aid. He described the cuts as dangerous and unwise economy.

He also urged that the Senate knock out a House amendment to cut off foreign aid to any country whose ships carry goods of any kind to Communist Cuba.

"That's the kind of amendment that puts us in a straitjacket and makes it more difficult to do our job along with our allies," Rusk said. "It's very important that this amendment come out."

As Rusk voiced this plea, Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., ordered a preliminary Senate investigation in the Cuban arms traffic. Magnuson told a reporter he believed Congress would consider amending the foreign aid bill to require that "we take a good look" at aid going to any government that compels its seamen to sail ships carrying munitions to Cuba.

Had Instructions
Magnuson said he had instructed the staff of his Senate Commerce Committee to make a preliminary inquiry to identify ships of all flags engaged in this traffic.

Rusk went before the Senate Appropriations Committee to make a last-chance personal appeal against a $1.124 billion cut to $3.630 billion in foreign aid funds voted Thursday by the House.

The over-all bill, a catchall which provides money also for such things as the Peace Corps and monetary funds not under Rusk's department, was slashed $1.4 billion to $5.9 billion.

Initial reaction in the committee to Rusk's plea indicated that a substantial part of the money would be restored, but not all of it. Rusk conceded that "There is not too much prospect of getting the full amount" requested.

The committee ended hearings on the bill Friday and expects to vote on it next Wednesday or Thursday.

Apparently three amendments added to the bill on Thursday by the House aimed at choking off shipping to Cuba came as a complete surprise to the administration. Rusk's statement prepared for the closed committee hearing contained no mention of them.

But Rusk's comments to newsmen before he went in to testify made it clear that he would make a strong plea for deletion of the amendments, particularly the especially restrictive one.

The secretary said the administration has the question of the shipments "with a number of countries and I am very much encouraged by the responses we have been getting."

"I don't think we should by legislation concentrate all our national interest on this one point," he added.

Rusk said all the unity possible between the United States and its allies is needed to deal with "Berlin and other problems ahead of us."

Rusk told the committee the $4.7 billion Congress authorized earlier in military and economic aid is the minimum that is needed.

He said the foreign aid program "has never been more needed in the cause of freedom," and that he struggle against communism is one in which "we cannot afford to tire or falter."

Argentinian Chief Casualty Of Feud

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — An exhausted President Jose Maria Guido collapsed Friday, a casualty of an explosive military feud that threatened to engulf Argentina in civil war.

The chief of the military rebels, Gen. Juan Carlos Onganía, broadcast a warning to loyalist troops in the Buenos Aires area to surrender or face air bombardment.

The warning was ignored, however, and Onganía's deadline passed without incident.

Guido, making round-the-clock efforts to settle the four-day struggle among the army generals, collapsed at Government House.

He was attended by Dr. Tiburcio Padilla, public health minister and a heart specialist. It was not known whether Guido had suffered heart trouble or simply fatigue.

The rebel radio issued Onganía's proclamation as loyalist columns were converging between Villa Rosas and Pilar outside the city.

Friends said Guido was baffled after seven months of trying to reconcile differences among the military commanders who ousted his friend, Arturo Frondizi, from the presidency.

Guido holds the powers of a strong man but has the spirit of a compromiser.

Within a few hours after he proclaimed a cease-fire, rival army commanders opened up a new battle of communications that left the president where he was when the crisis erupted four days ago—only this time leaning toward the rebels favoring strict constitutional government and elections as soon as possible.

Reports Of Shooting

There were reports of shooting in Florencio Varela, a quiet suburban town south of the capital. The reports could not be confirmed.

Tanks and truckloads of troops rumbled through Buenos Aires, already pock-marked by trenches.

Government ministries and large business firms sent women employees home before noon.

Students turned out by the hundreds for their traditional parading on this first day of the Southern Hemisphere spring, but were persuaded to get off the streets.

Guido arrived at Government House in the early afternoon accompanied by retired Lt. Gen. Benjamín Rattenbach, who is being touted as the new secretary of war. Rattenbach, 66, has declared the military should keep out of politics.

The president fired his whole Cabinet and the top military leaders earlier in an effort to appease the rebels who charged that he was being used as a stooge in their plot to set up a military dictatorship.

Judge Clears 3 Officials

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Sidney Mize cleared three University of Mississippi officials of contempt charges Friday in the James H. Meredith desegregation case.

The judge held that "all powers were vested solely and conclusively in the board of trustees and not direct officials of the university."

The faces of the three defendants — Chancellor John D. Williams, liberal arts Dean Arthur B. Lewis, and registrar Robert B. Ellis—broke into wide smiles when the judge ruled at the end of a three-hour hearing.

The 13 members of the state college board — named by the judge as the ones with the real power in the matter—are scheduled for a hearing themselves on contempt charges in the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans Monday.

The Justice Department moved against both groups — the three school officials and the trustees — in the wake of Gov. Ross Barnett's refusal to register the 29-year-old Negro student.

Barnett, clothed in the authority of the state college board and acting as registrar, handled the matter personally in a meeting with Meredith on the campus.

In turning away Meredith, he defied the orders of three federal courts—ranging all the way up to the U.S. Supreme Court — that Meredith must be admitted and 114 years of segregation at the institution must fall.

Man Will Do Woman's Work

LONDON (AP)—A British scientist predicted Friday that man will one day invent a robot that will do all of woman's tiresome housework.

He is Prof. Meredith Thring of Sheffield University, who is married and has three children.

"We have gone no further than the halfway stage" in the industrial revolution, he said in an interview.

"This has led a number of inventors to seriously look into the possibility of making a fool-proof, 100 per cent robot housewife."

Mentioning vacuum cleaners, washing machines, floor polishers, and automatic dishwashers, he said: "Yet the average British housewife of 1962 works harder than her Victorian counterpart. She works so hard that her husband often feels compelled to help her."

Thring, a professor of chemical engineering, said it's too early to discuss how far he's gotten with the project, but he visualizes a robot about the size of a small woman—a machine that could be rigged to make beds, set tables and do cleaning chores.

Memory
"It would be able to get around the house, including going up and down stairs by itself," he explained. "It would have arms and hands for removing and replacing various objects."

"It would have a built-in computer and a memory. It could be trained to know the geography of a house."

Thring said that the ideal automatic housewife would take into consideration children—even babies crawling about a room—and wouldn't interfere with them or be bothered by them.

"We have the basic necessary knowledge to solve all these problems," he said.

There's one hitch. He said it would take about 10 years to develop at a cost of $2.8 million.

Airliner Shot Down In Congo

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—A United Nations airliner that crashed in north Katanga Thursday was shot down, a U.N. military source said Friday. One of the 10 Swedes aboard was killed and five were injured, three by bullets.

There was no immediate identification of the gunners, who brought down the twin-engine Dakota during a storm.

U.N. officials rushed an investigating team from their base at Kamina, near the crash scene.

A message to this capital of secessionist Katanga from a U.N. helicopter that reached the scene indicated the plane was surrounded by troops of the Congolese National Army when it was found in flat open country.

The cockpit of the plane was not hit and neither the pilot, a Maj. Lungkvist, nor copilot, William Nilson, was injured, the U.N. source said. Lungkvist and Nilson are Swedish officers serving with the U.N. Congo Command.

3 Wounded Swedes
The three wounded Swedes were taken to Kabalo, near the crash site.

The remaining survivors and the body of the dead Swede were flown by helicopter to Kamina.

The crash occurred a year after U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, who also was a Swede, and 15 others persons died in a crash near Ndola, Northern Rhodesia, while on a Congo peace mission.

A U.N. reconnaissance aircraft sighted the wreckage and a rescue mission was dispatched immediately from Kamina.

In Stockholm, the Swedish government called for a thorough investigation.

Two of the six members of the investigating team are Swedish, the U.N. spokesman said.

Keystone Decides To Intervene

HARRISBURG (AP)—The state decided Friday to intervene in the Pennsylvania-New York Central Railroad merger case, but to take no position on the merger at this time.

The decision to intervene in the proceedings before the Interstate Commerce Commission was recommended by a special interdepartmental committee headed by Dr. David H. Kurtzman, secretary of administration.

Lawrence agreed with the recommendation.

The committee also proposed, and Lawrence agreed, that special study group be set up to obtain further information about the merger.

Intervention, Kurtzman said, "would not be for the purpose of taking a position for or against the application as such, at this time."

Pottsville Man Escapes Injury

WILLIAM Parton, 512 Laurel St., Pottsville, escaped injury at 2:30 p.m. yesterday when his car left Route 209 and struck a Palmerton Telephone Co. pole in Towamensing Township, Carbon County.

State Police at Lehighton said Parton apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

Governor Passes 'Good News' On JFK

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Lawrence passed some good news to Pennsylvania Democrats Friday: President Kennedy will make two more campaign appearances in the state before the Nov. 6 election.

Kennedy stirred up the statewide campaign with a hard-hitting speech Thursday night at the $100-a-plate Democratic dinner marking the start of the election drive.

Lawrence was in obvious high spirits when he met with newsmen at his weekly news conference, declaring the dinner "went off in pretty good order . . . and was handled very well."

The governor said dates have not been set for the additional visits by the President, but he added Kennedy will appear in the anthracite and bituminous coal regions.

The Democrats, he said in answer to a question, are not "on the defensive" in the campaign. "We're running on what we have done and what we will continue to do," he declared.

No Plans
Lawrence said there are no plans to marshal his cabinet members in the campaign, but was confident they would "take umbrage" any time they felt the Republicans were inaccurate in their declarations.

"If Mr. Scranton (GOP candidate William W. Scranton) continues to utter one—oh, I want to be polite—one misstatement after another about state affairs, I feel very confident" the cabinet members will have a reply, Lawrence said.

Lawrence went on to praise Forests and Waters Secretary Maurice K. Goddard for his efforts during the past eight years, terming the secretary "the best public employee in all America."

The governor said he thought Scranton made one of his "biggest boo-boos" in his attacks on the Forests and Waters Department.

In other topics:
The proposed merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroads—the state is studying the situation to determine if the step will effect the economy as severely as labor claims it will, Lawrence said. He also intends to hear the businessmen's view before making a decision on whether to oppose the merger as requested by labor.

Decision of General Foods Corp. to locate in Delaware—Lawrence said, "We're sorry about losing an industry to Delaware, but, then, I imagine Delaware is sorry when it loses an industry to us."

Latest Outbreak
The latest outbreak in a long series of Indian-Chinese incidents was near a village variously known as Dhola, Tseong or Chedong. The area lies 900 miles east of disputed Ladakh, another border hot spot.

The Indian spokesman said two Chinese soldiers crept up to an Indian post two miles east of the village at 9:30 p.m. Thursday and fired flares, he said, which disclosed a fairly substantial number of Chinese soldiers within a few hundred yards of the post.

Stock Market Hit Hard By Selling Waves

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was hit hard Friday when it ran into two selling waves.

Prices in nearly every major group of stocks were cut back $1 to $2 with a few losses running to $6 and more.

The setback, the sharpest since July 18, sheared $3.9 billion from the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the drop in The Associated Press average.

The ticker ran behind in reporting floor transactions as selling accelerated late in the day, lifting turnover to 4.28 million shares. About 3.35 million shares changed hands Thursday. The first wave had hit just before noon.

Brokers could point to no specific news in business or politics. They said the downturn picked up momentum when the Dow Jones industrial average broke below the 600 level, a psychological holding point.

Soviet Issues Warning To U.S.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union sounded a warning Friday in the United Nations that U.S. attack on Cuba means war. The United States promptly replied that the Soviet Union is threatening peace by supplying military aid to Cuba.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko delivered the warning in a major policy speech to the U.N. General Assembly in which he lashed out at President Kennedy and U.S. policy toward Cuba.

He got an immediate answer from Adlai E. Stevenson, the chief U.S. delegate.

In words directed at both Gromyko and the Cuban representatives in the assembly, Stevenson said:

"We are not taking and will not take offensive action in this hemisphere, neither will we permit aggression in this hemisphere."

He declared that the right of the United States to defend its security is "anchored in the U.N. charter."

Peace In Cuba
"The threat to peace in Cuba comes not from the United States but from the Soviet Union," he said.

"The threat arises from the extraordinary and unnecessary flood of Soviet arms and military personnel pouring into Cuba. It is this foreign military intervention in the Western Hemisphere which is creating grave concern not only in this country, but throughout the hemisphere."

"For what purpose is this great military buildup in Cuba intended?" he asked.

"If the Soviet Union genuinely desires to keep the peace in the Caribbean let it stop this warlike posturing, this stuffing of Cuba with rockets, military aircraft, advanced electronic equipment and other armament all out of proportion to any legitimate needs."

Gromyko accused some U.S. political leaders of displaying a "flippant attitude" to the question of war and peace in regard to the situation in Cuba.

"An attack on Cuba," he said, "would have implications about which the Soviet government warned the whole world in the well-known statement issued on Sept. 11, 1962."

In that statement, the Soviet government declared flatly that if an attack is launched on Cuba "this will be the beginning of the unleashing of war."

He assailed President Kennedy's statement of Sept. 13 that the United States will do whatever must be done if the Communist buildup in Cuba endangers U.S. security.

Very Important
"It's very important that this amendment come out," Rusk told reporters.

He referred to a House rider designed to cut off U.S. aid to any country whose ships carry goods of any kind to Cuba. It was attached to the administration's foreign aid appropriation shortly before the House approved the bill Thursday night.

The secretary went before a closed session of the Senate Appropriations Committee to seek restoration of funds cut out of the bill by the House.

The House also adopted an amendment aimed at nations whose vessels carry arms or strategic materials to the Castro regime.

If the Senate refuses to accept the amendments, the issue will have to be resolved in a Senate-House conference.

This is what House leaders hope to avoid with the congressional resolution of warning that the United States will not permit aggressive use of the Soviet-sponsored military buildup in Cuba.

Threaten U.S. Security

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Air Force Secretary Eugene M. Zuckert warned Friday of "possible threats to our security" from space levels at which the Soviet Union operates.

He suggested that the X15 and X20 rocket planes may lead to craft which could combat such a threat. Another possibility he said, "might be the permanently manned orbital space station designed for military purposes."

The possible threat, Zuckert told the Air Force Association convention, is in the "near orbital stage of space." This area, in which most present-day satellites whirl, is within 100 miles or so of the earth's surface.

Zuckert said the recent Soviet feat of placing two spacecraft in close orbits "seemed to indicate the need" for development of such weapons.

The X15 rocket plane already has reached an altitude of almost 60 miles in flights from Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. Eventually it may go as high as 75 miles—or even 10 miles with modification.

The X20 Dyna-Soar is scheduled to begin manned flights into 100-mile-high orbit in 1965, boosted from Cape Canaveral, Fla., by a Titan III rocket now under development.

Zuckert said both the Air Force and the secretary of defense recognize the need for a standardized workhorse launch vehicle.

Delay Orbit Shot

WASHINGTON (AP) — The six-orbit flight of astronaut Walter Schirra has been postponed until Oct. 3, or later, the space agency announced Friday.

The most ambitious of U.S. manned space flights had been tentatively set for Sept. 28 but is being delayed because of the discovery of a malfunction in the Mercury space capsule control system, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration disclosed.

NASA said discovery earlier Friday of the malfunction of the system has necessitated rescheduling "for no earlier than October 3."

NASA said: "A malfunction in a selector valve of the spacecraft's attitude control system was discovered in the course of preflight preparation for the Mercury Atlas 8 mission today."

"The launch, tentatively scheduled for Sept. 28, has been rescheduled for no earlier than Oct. 3."

The attitude control system is the system that controls the spacecraft's position in flight—that is, overcoming pitch, yaw and roll.

Officials said the malfunction will necessitate removing the spacecraft from atop its Atlas launching rocket at Cape Canaveral, Fla., since the apparatus involved is located deep inside the capsule.

No Injuries In Two Car Crash

NO ONE was injured in a two-car accident on Route 209 in Polk Township at 8:15 p.m. yesterday.

State Police at Lehighton identified the drivers as Walter Schoenburger, 827 Iron St., Lehighton, and Claude Berger, Kunkletown, RD 1.

Troopers said Berger was turning into the Green Gables Inn and Schoenburger was attempting to pass him when the cars sideswiped.

Call to Spiritual Renewal

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Malachi.

Late in the fifth century B. C. a prophet called Malachi rose up and rebuked the people of Judah once more. He chastized the priests for offering cheap sacrifices and leading the people astray.—Malachi 1:6-2:9.

The people themselves he rebuked for the moral laxity which had replaced their early enthusiasm. Divorce had become prevalent, and with it the custom of marrying foreign women.—Malachi 2:10-17.

He also chastized the people for robbing God, by not bringing their whole tithes to the storehouse. The Lord wanted this tenth part of their possessions as proof of their recognition of His love.—Malachi 3:7-12.

Malachi also promised the Lord's forgiveness with reformation, as he promised His recognition of the small group who had remained faithful and God-fearing.—Malachi 3:16-18.

GOLDEN TEXT: Malachi 2:10.

Today's Lesson:

A Call To Spiritual Renewal

By N. SPEER JONES
IN THIS LESSON we study the work of a man who has been called "the last of the prophets." We don't know exactly when he lived, but from the subject matter we know it was sometime after the return from captivity and after the early enthusiasm of the returned Jews had dwindled—probably between 450 and 400 B.C. After him, and after Ezra and Nehemiah, his contemporaries, we hear no other true prophetic voice until that of John the Baptist, four centuries later.

This work, called the book of Malachi, is really anonymous. We have no evidence, either within the book or elsewhere, of the existence of a man so named. The literal translation of Malachi is simply "my messenger," a title probably adopted by a later editor from the first verse. Many think it was written by Ezra. A unique form for the Bible presents itself in this book—the question and answer method is used to present the Lord's message. The Lord makes a statement, then repeats the questions of His people, then presents evidence to back up His original statement. (See the examples in 1:2, 3, 16, 7; 2:10-16; 2:17; 3:7, 8 and 3:13, 14.) This method of teaching was brought to perfection by Malachi's contemporary, Socrates; it is known, in fact, as the Socratic method. Malachi has been called the Hebrew Socrates.

Whoever he was, the man we shall call Malachi wrote at yet another time of discouragement for Israel. We have seen how Haggai exhorted the people to rebuild the temple, telling them they could not expect God's blessing while it lay in ruins. Now the temple has been rebuilt, but still there is no prosperity. Disillusionment has followed—and with it, moral laxity and indifference to worship.

The reason for this is plain to Malachi—the "law of Moses" has been forgotten.

In the first place, he says, these Jews, the Twelve Tribes descended from Jacob and known as God's chosen people, who have been delivered from bondage in Egypt and given the promised land, have had the audacity to doubt God's love. (1:1-5.)

Secondly, the priests have become indifferent, careless, selfish and hypocritical, degrading their religion and leading the people astray (1:6-2:9). The chief accusation here is against the man who claims to serve God, yet really does not put himself out at all for Him.

Malachi 2:10-17 deals with the moral corruption of the people in the practice they had fallen into of divorcing their wives—and divorcing them for foreign, or pagan, women.

Malachi also relates how the people have been cynical, almost blasphemous (3:13-15), and how they have failed to pay their tithes (3:7-12). It is not that God needs their produce but that He wants evidence of their love, as He does of ours. The man who tithes is bound to be thinking about God, if he gives the "whole tithe"—its outward form and its inward devotion.

In 3:16-18 we have a reference to the small group who were faithful to God, and who met together, perhaps in the earliest synagogue.

The two major prophecies in Malachi are that concerning the coming of John the Baptist (3:1-6) and that concerning the coming day of the Lord (4:1-6), including

Methodists Convention

OCEAN CITY, N.J.—Race relations, from several aspects, will be emphasized when Methodist leaders of Northeastern states gather here Sept. 26-28.

Speakers, panels and discussion groups also will study other current social problems and how to face them in the annual Regional Briefing Conference on Christian Social Concerns. The training for church, district and conference leaders in this field will be at the Flanders Hotel, under chairmanship of the Rev. Macklyn Lindstrom, Erie, Pa., pastor.

Keynote address will be "Religious and Theological Motivation for Dealing with Human Relations," by the Rev. A. Dudley Ward of Washington, D.C., director of the Methodist Division of Human Relations and Economic Affairs.

Closing speaker will be the Rev. Dr. Harold Bosley, pastor of Christ Church Methodist in New York City.

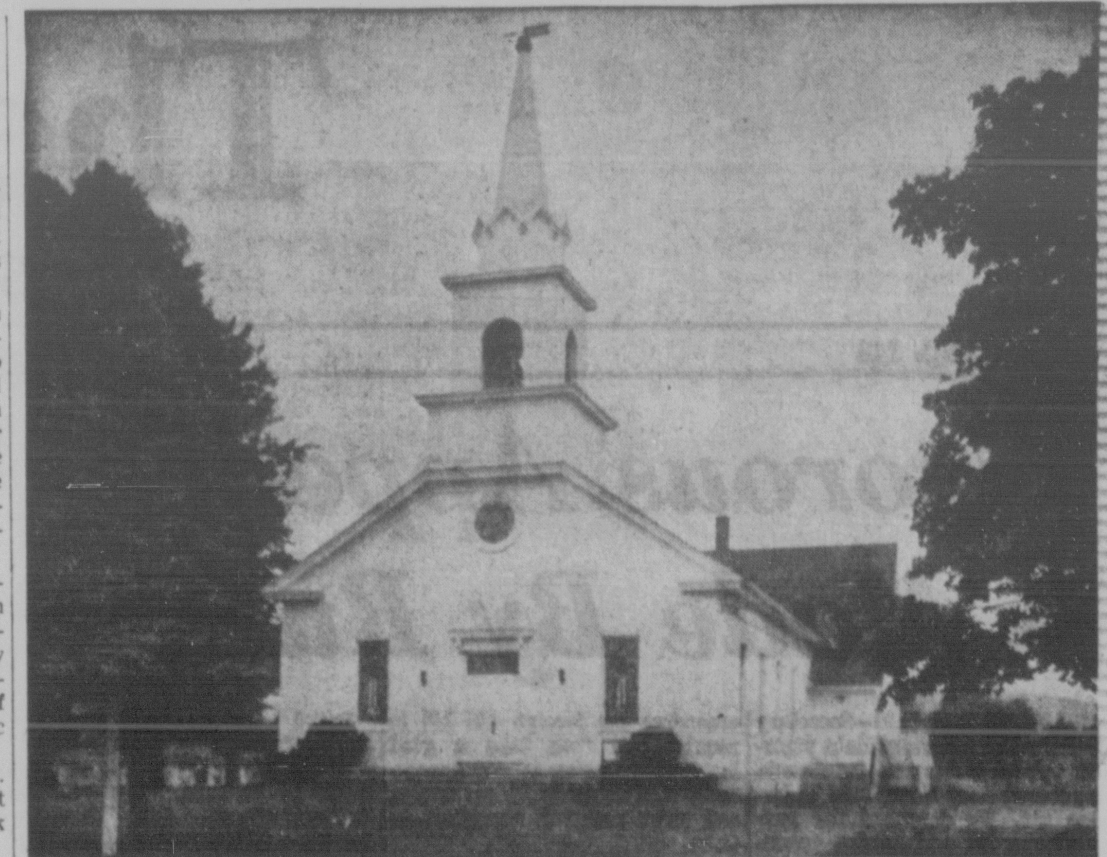

Panel discussions and their participants will include:

"The Inclusive Fellowship"—the Rev. Dr. Kelly Jackson, pastor at Baltimore, Md.; Morris Milgram, community developer, Princeton, N.J., and Reginald Johnson of the National Urban League, New York City.

"Housing and Prejudice"—the Rev. Dr. Kelly Jackson, pastor at Baltimore, Md.; Morris Milgram, community developer, Princeton, N.J., and Reginald Johnson of the National Urban League, New York City.

"Discrimination in Employment"—The Rev. Robert Regan of the Board of Christian Social Concerns, Washington, D.C.; Bishop W. Ralph Ward of Syracuse, N.Y., and Don Slatman of the AFL-CIO Civil Rights Division, Washington, D.C.

Other leadership in related social fields will include Roger Burgess, director of the Division of Temperance and General Welfare, and the Rev. Carl Soule, director of the Methodist United Nations office.

Zion United Church, Brodheadsville

100th Anniversary To Be Observed By Zion Church

THE MEMBERS of Zion United Church, Brodheadsville, are preparing a program for Sunday, Sept. 23 and Sept. 30, marking the 100th anniversary of the church.

On Sunday, Sept. 23, the Rev. Adan Bohner will conduct the services. The guest speaker for the service will be the Rev. Allen S. Meek.

The following Sunday the Rev. Robert T. Zuch will conduct the service and the Rev. Luther F. Schlenker will be the guest speaker.

In addition to the guest speakers a special music program has been developed. The program will feature the Pocono Community Chorus, West End Choir and the Zion United Church Choir. Vocal soloists will be Mrs. Betty Fisher and Louis Steen. Organ soloists will be Vernon C. Imbt and Miss Rebecca Doney.

At the Sept. 23 night service the church will welcome back several of its former pastors: the Revs. George K. Ely, Baltimore, Md.; James G. Shannon, Littleton, N.J.; and Floyd I. Shafer, Easton.

Looking back 101 years at a place called "Gravel Hill" the corner stone was laid for the Zion United Church, and the following year it was dedicated. Gravel Hill later became Brodheadsville.

One of the members of the church that was prominent in its building was the late Judge C. D. Brodhead, then a judge in Monroe County.

In 1912 members of the church celebrated the 50th anniversary. A report of the celebration shows it was in February 1912 on a cold winter day.

It was at this time that the church was rededicated. It had been decorated with new windows, gas lights and a pipe organ installed.

Around Once Again

About 30 years ago, Washington took note of the fact that the rural people of the Tennessee Valley didn't seem to be as prosperous as those in much of the rest of the country. The Tennessee Valley was the result.

Today, most of the Tennessee Valley is still described officially as "depressed," despite the outpourings of hundreds of millions of tax dollars to un-depress it.

Orville Freeman, Agriculture Secretary, now finds that about 800 rural counties (including those in the TVA area) are hard up, and is holding a series of meetings around the nation to tell what Uncle Sam proposes to do about it.

The magic that was supposed to bring prosperity to Tennessee Valley residents was cheap electricity, and recreation areas. Today, it appears, the magic is sewer lines and swimming pools.

The government gift and loan package, includes water plants, sewer systems, pools, ski lifts and community centers, as well as engineering and technical advice.

Industry, lured by the creation of rural paradises, is supposed to rush in and hire the people who don't make what you'd call a lush living on their farms. Then prosperity will be at hand, and rural America will be saved.

Repeated surveys, though, show that industry picks its plant locations on quite another basis than the proximity of a golf course (yes, that's in Mr. Freeman's package, too.)

Among them are the local political and tax climate, the availability of a skilled and non-bellucose labor force, access to raw materials, proximity to markets and existence of good transportation.

It is to be hoped that the residents of those hard-up communities won't rely too much on Mr. Freeman's swimming pools to bring prosperity.

'Why Did I Get Stuck With The Working Trips?'

Complaints On Taxes

Editor, The Daily Record:

I inherited and still own a country home in Monroe County in my maiden name and also pay taxes in Pike County. Taxes in Pike County in the last 30 years, have increased approximately 20%, which I do not feel is extreme.

I do, however, feel that the tax increases in Monroe County, in the past few years, have reached scandalous proportions. Those tax increases, like the scavenger service, are odorous. Both smell.

If one were a suspicious person (which I am not by nature), one might believe almost that a strenuous effort was being made to encourage property owners to dispose of their property, even at a loss, for some unknown reason.

I still believe in the power of the ballot. If my request, and those of my friends, for tax reductions do not materialize, I intend to change my bona-fide residence to Monroe County and will add my little vote to what I hope will become a torrent to assuage by the ballot the scandalous tax situation now existent.

Respectfully yours
(Mrs.) Edwin M. Carver

Lauds Mr. Knepp

Editor,
The Daily Record

I read of the recent conflict concerning Mr. Knepp's course on Human Reproduction with surprise and disbelief. I was a student in this course while in high school, and during the course of my medical and psychiatric specialty training, I have always been proud to mention Mr. Knepp to my colleagues as an example of the enlightened, progressive school system of the Stroudsburgs.

I cannot stress strongly enough the importance of such a course for the mental health of our students and future citizens. I am presently in charge of the Women's Acute Admissions Building at the Allentown State Hospital. As a conservative estimate, I can state that at least one-half of the admissions can be directly related to the guilt and fear of the individual whose concepts of marital relations and reproduction are woefully ignorant and confused.

Hundreds of women in this day and age do not marry because of these misconceptions about reproduction. Hundreds more do marry, but suffer depression and actual psychoses after delivery of a child. There are no end of cases of unhappy marriage where the old wives' tales and fears of our ancestors have interfered with the present day relationships between men and women.

Of course, the best way for children to be informed about these matters is in the home. But daily, my patients say, "Doctor, I know that I should talk to my children about reproduction, and I realize that it is a natural and wonderful thing, intellectually, but I cannot manage to free myself of the embarrassment and fears that I have always felt, and I know that my children will sense this feeling." These patients are perfectly right.

This is one of the ways in which a course like Mr. Knepp's can be so helpful. How can we hope to teach our children that human reproduction is a beautiful and rewarding accomplishment if it is "not quite right" to talk about it in a scientific classroom?

In conclusion, I can only add that if there were more Mr. Knepps in our world, we would often be spared the heart-breaking sight of the separation of a family at the doors of a mental institution. Ignorance is the breeding-ground for mental illness.

Sincerely,
Margaret Evermon, M.D.

Congressmen Criticize Kennedy's Statements

By James W. Douthat

WASHINGTON — Some members of Congress are criticizing news conference statements by President Kennedy on the ground that he applied a double standard to management and labor.

He was questioned about labor disputes—in which "fact-finding" boards had been appointed and had made their recommendations — involving aerospace companies and the Chicago and North Western Railroad.

In the aerospace controversy, Mr. Kennedy asserted that the companies should accept the "fact-finding" board recommendations for a compulsory union shop.

"If there is a strike," he added, "the responsibility would be very clear."

In the railway dispute, the "fact-finding" board recommended, among other things, the elimination of costly "feathering - bedding" practices of the union.

But, critics pointed out, all that Mr. Kennedy said about this was that he thought it "very important that the parties come to an agreement immediately."

Rep. Hiestand (R - Calif.) told the House that the Kennedy Administration's pressure for a union shop in the aerospace industry means real money to unions. He said:

"For the union's and union-supported politicians the spoils are high. One hundred thousand more men and women paying dues at $5 per month will result in an additional income of $6 million a year. No wonder the fight against individual freedom has been so fierce."

He added that Congress should "investigate the coercive nature of administration policy in the field of labor settlements."

$93.9 Billion Budget
President Kennedy's spending budget for the current fiscal year soared to $93.9 billion when he signed the legislation authorizing him to spend $900 million for pump-priming anti-recession public works projects.

This "political slush fund for the President" — as opponents describe it—boosted Mr. Kennedy's spending program by $62 billion over the 1962 fiscal year, and by $12.4 billion over 1961.

The federal deficit for 1961 was $3.9 billion, for 1962 $6.3 billion, and the 1963 deficit is variously estimated at between $5 billion and $16 billion.

Mr. Kennedy's 1963 spending program started at $92.5 billion when he submitted his budget to Congress last January. Later it was elevated to $93 billion—and now to $93.9 billion.

And Mr. Kennedy still is urging Congress to give him stand-by authority to spend an additional $2 billion for public works if unemployment should increase.

Private Enterprise Foreign Aid
One aspect of foreign aid almost completely overlooked in voting taxpayers' money for this purpose is the vast assistance provided by American private enterprise abroad.

To assure consideration of this private aid by Congress, in deciding on federal appropriations for the 1963 fiscal year, the Senate Republican Policy Committee made a study which Senator Hickenlooper of Iowa, the chairman, said disclosed that "American private activities abroad are really of staggering proportions and are of fantastic benefit to the various foreign countries."

Explaining that the estimates were "minimal," Senator Hickenlooper told the Senate that the study disclosed that American assets in foreign countries in 1961 totaled $56 billion and that direct investments of Americans abroad totaled $35 billion.

Water Gap Post Office Site, Taxes, Thruway Markers, Commentary

Backs Water Gap PO Site

Editor, The Daily Record
Enclosed are copies of letters mailed to Mr. Kenyon, Post Office Real Estate office and Congressman Walter stating the position of the Delaware Water Gap Chamber of Commerce on the selection of a site for the new Post Office. It is the desire of the members only that the Post Office Department be notified of the full support of the Chamber of Commerce in their choice of the Post Office site.

Courteously yours,
STEPHEN R. MATOS,
Secretary
Delaware Water Gap Chamber of Commerce

Dear Mr. Kenyon:
It has been brought to the attention of the Delaware Water Gap Chamber of Commerce that the Mayor of the Borough of Delaware Water Gap has appointed a committee to poll the residents of the Borough of Delaware Water Gap to determine which one of four sites they prefer for the location of the new Post Office Building.

As you are well aware, the Delaware Water Gap Chamber of Commerce originated the initial request for a new and modern post office better suited to the needs of the world-famed Delaware Water Gap as early as October, 1960 and has been directly instrumental in focusing the attention of the Post Office Department and the Delaware Water Gap Borough Council on the total inadequacy of the present postal facilities.

In view of the public poll being made to obtain an opinion on the selection of a site for the proposed Post Office Building, it becomes apparent that the position of the Chamber of Commerce on this question be stated for the record, even though it has been disclosed to the Post Office and the Borough Council previously.

The Delaware Water Gap Chamber of Commerce which has been closely involved with this problem for the past two years has necessarily given this problem careful consideration and study during this period. During this study the Delaware Water Gap Chamber of Commerce has been in contact with a number of Post Office Department Real Estate and Engineering representatives—all of whom have been found to be extremely capable in their respective fields.

As pointed out by Mr. Kenyon in his letter of 20 April, 1961 to the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, the Post Office Department evaluates sites from three points of view. The first is real estate value. It must be economically feasible and priced within the scope of fair market value for the community, as compared to recent sales of real estate in the area. Secondly it must meet the operational requirements of the post office department.

Third it must be capable of suiting the engineering needs of a new post office building. That is, it must be in an area not subject to flooding and the topography must necessarily have to be such that it would adapt itself to postal needs. It must be of a size to provide adequate maneuvering areas for vehicles. In addition, the Chamber of Commerce would request that it provide adequate parking facilities for the patrons most of whom have to drive in to pick up their mail.

As a result of the Chamber's study, and after due consideration of the background, experience and technical capability of the Postal Department representatives, all of whom have been trained to evaluate potential sites from an economic, operational and engineering point of view, the Delaware Water Gap Chamber of Commerce takes this opportunity to inform the Post Office Department — and the Borough Council — that it will endorse and strongly support the site selected by the Post Office Department as being the most suitable from the above points of view — that is on the basis of being the least costly, best suited to the operational needs of the post office and with adequate facilities for parking and/or vehicle maneuvering.

This decision of the Chamber of Commerce to endorse and fully support the Post Office Department's selection of a suitable site is made after due consideration of the welfare of the entire community and in the belief that this action would be most beneficial to all concerned. It is therefore requested that the Chamber of Commerce decision be brought to the attention of the Regional Postal Authorities for their consideration when evaluating the various potential sites.

Courteously yours,
STEPHEN R. MATOS,
Chamber of Commerce

The Delaware Water Gap Chamber of Commerce takes this opportunity of thanking the representatives of the Post Office Department for their past cooperation and to assure them of the Chamber's cooperation in this matter.

Courteously yours,
LAYTON OSBORN,
President

STEPHEN R. MATOS,
Delaware Water Gap Chamber of Commerce

Dear Congressman Walter:
It is our understanding that the Congressman has received the results of a survey made by a committee appointed by Mayor A. Lehr of Delaware Water Gap on the location of a site for the proposed Post Office.

The Delaware Water Gap Chamber of Commerce has sent a letter to Mr. Kenyon on the Chamber's position in this matter. A copy of this letter is enclosed with this letter. It is stated that the Delaware Water Gap Chamber of Commerce will endorse and strongly support the Post Office Department on any location that they select since it is the Chamber's belief that the location while important is not the only consideration.

The erection of a new post office in the village is the most important and the sooner the better. Therefore the Delaware Water Gap Chamber of Commerce has put the welfare of the community above any other item and has put itself in favor of any location that the Post Office selects on the basis of its superior evaluation capability, and will support the Post Office Department in this matter wholeheartedly.

Please convey this report to any of the Post Office officials concerned and assure them of the Chamber's full cooperation in this matter.

Courteously yours,
STEPHEN R. MATOS,
Chamber of Commerce

Takes Issue On Letter

Editor, The Daily Record:

The Delk letter in last Saturday's Record is amusing.

It happens that Monroe County is thoroughly in need of a political house cleaning. Unfortunately, the Republicans, as now constituted are hopeless for the job. Mr. Schnitzer, however, seems to have started something. We now have a taxpayers organization.

What Mr. Schnitzer says about the road to Tamiment and Unity is interesting. I intend to go for a drive to see for myself.

Knowing something about current events, perhaps Mr. Schnitzer's critic might have shown a little restraint. Measured purely by its achievements in foreign affairs, I believe there is little about the current Washington administration about which to be ecstatic.

As for the Democratic party, I would suggest that Mrs. Delk consult reference books on some of these subjects: The introduction of the Spoils System by Andrew Jackson; the Kennedy-like policy of Buchanan which led to the Civil War; the Democratic platform of 1864 which meant, practically, the dissolution of the Union; the record of Hague of New Jersey, Prendergast in Kansas City, Curley in Massachusetts and Tammany Hall in New York; the scandals of the Truman administration.

Before someone mentions Teapot Dome, I might mention that it was nothing but a bribe charge that was never proved. Compare that with the Billy Sol Estes situation.

I am afraid Mrs. Delk is misguided.

Very truly yours,
Charles Wadlow

Local Man's Article Is In National Trade Book

RICHARD J. Smith, sales manager of Pocono Fabricators, Inc., a division of the Patterson-Kelley Co., Inc., East Stroudsburg, has just had a major technical article published in the August issue of COIN-OP magazine.

COIN-OP serves 20,000 coin-operated laundry and dry cleaning businessmen in the United States and Canada.

Smith's article titled "Corrosion: Coin-Op Enemy No. 1" discusses at length the causes of corrosion in hot water systems, the treatment of water to reduce its corrosive effects, and the various materials used to line storage water heaters (the main source of rust in a laundry system.)

Smith's article is based on his four years of experience in the Patterson-Kelley Company's Heat Exchanger Department where he has done corrosion and heat transfer work. Two years ago he became sales manager of Pocono Fabricators who produce Formula 17 Pre-Krete, a corrosion resistant tank lining material.

Dick and his wife Lorette and 2 children live at 220 Park Avenue, Stroudsburg, and are active in local church and school activities.

Gold And White Theme For Spina-DeSanto Rites

White and gold orchids and pompons decorated St. Mary's of the Mount Roman Catholic Church, Mount Pocono, for the early Fall wedding of Miss Marianne Patricia DeSanto to Philip Martin Spina. The ceremony took place at 11:30 a. m. Sept. 15.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul DeSanto, Towne and Country, Mount Pocono. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Spina, 90 Mary St., Valley Stream, L. I., N. Y.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a Sophie gown of ivory peau de soie. The Empire lines were accented by a bell shaped skirt and a floating panel chapel train. A seed pearl tiara held her three tiered veil of imported French silk illusion. The ivory veil was designed in a bouffant fashion. She carried a full cascade of white Tugi chrysanthemums and lily with a white orchid center.

Miss Carol Dowallby, Mount Pocono, was maid of honor. She was attired in an antique gold silk ottoman hesitation length gown. It was fashioned with a jeweled neckline and bracelet sleeves. The Empire waistline featured a front panel which extended over the shaped bodice to the hemline. A matching antique gold silk ottoman bow held sheer veiling for her headpiece. She carried a semi-cascade of green orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Rosemarie DeSanto, Leonardo, N. J.; Miss Beatrice Schiraldi, Stamford, Conn., and Miss Nancy Austin, Beechhurst, L. I., N. Y., were bridesmaids. Their gowns were styled as Miss Dowallby's. They carried semi-cascades of green orchids and bronze pompons.

Robert Spina, Valley Stream, L. I., N. Y., served as best man. Ushers were Anthony Malito, Queens Village, N. Y.; Peter Dowling, New York, N. Y.; Roland Fawthorpe, Ensign, USS Arcadia; Robert Sandrone, Malba, N. Y., and Richard Miranda, Lynbrook, N. Y.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. DeSanto chose a jeweled cocktail dress of peacock blue peau de soie with matching accessories.

A dinner and reception for 200 guests followed the ceremony in the Empress Room, Mount Airy Lodge.

For a wedding trip to Bermuda, Mrs. Spina wore a red knit suit with black accessories. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Spina will make their home in Norfolk, Va.

Mrs. Spina is a graduate of Stroud Union High School and Keystone Junior College.

Mr. Spina is a graduate of Valley Stream High School and St. Michaels College. He is an ensign in the United States Navy.

Author Made A Career Of Living On Nothing

By Roberta Fleming Roesch
Because I'm a believer in opportunity, I'm convinced that almost all our circumstances and experiences can be turned into real opportunities if we look for a way.

The day I traveled to Pennsylvania to learn how Joan Shortney turned her passion for leftovers to something useful and enjoyable into a published book, "How To Live On Nothing", I was more convinced than ever. Here I found a woman who'd made her knowledge of how to live on very little a new job opportunity to add to an already varied list of careers.

Variety Of Jobs

Up until the time that Joan's book, and her subsequent lectures on its subject, made her a recognized authority on how to live on little, her varied career included all kinds of writing, magazine editing, work as a reference librarian — and a potpourri of other jobs. Currently she teaches at a Pennsylvania college.

But whatever Joan does, or has done, she keeps on working at preaching ways to whittle down the high cost of living in order to clear the path for doing more of what you want to do.

It's A Challenge

"As an actor's daughter I had to learn early the 'how-to' of getting through lean periods," Joan told me when I asked how it all started. "Somehow the challenge of always being able to do this stuck."

Because of the way it stuck, the challenge was with Joan all through college, as well as through a career in New York. Then, after World War II, she and her husband decided to put the challenge to a greater-than-ever test.

To do this and live the kind of life they wanted at the same time, the couple bought a rundown Bucks County farm in beautiful Pleasant Valley and jointly made up their minds that they'd create a lot from almost nothing and convert the farm into the home they wanted. Consequently, at Pleasant Valley "How To Live On Nothing" was born — and lived.

As a result, the book is crammed with things that you and I can do in our homes and lives to lower the high cost of living and yet attain better things — better use out of every dollar.

Stretching A Dollar Wisely Can Mean A Better Life better food that is actually cheaper, better clothes, better furniture, better health, better housing, and even better low-priced vacations.

Can't Afford Waste
"The majority of people don't earn enough money to allow them to live happily despite mismanagement and waste," Joan Shortney maintains.

"But I believe all of us can have the opportunities to have the good things of life as well as everyday necessities if we manage carefully and learn all the opportunities there are to live gracefully on a tight income."

(If you'd like further information on Mrs. Shortney's book, send me your request and a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of this newspaper.)

Late Summer Nuptials For Miss Grete K. Ewe

St. Paul's Lutheran Church was decorated with white snapdragons and carnations for the late Summer wedding of Miss Grete Katrine Ewe to William Howard Beck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Beck, 205 Union Ave., Altoona.

The bride is the daughter of Captain and Mrs. Robert Ewe, Stroudsburg, RD 5.

Rev. Charles Adams, Jr., performed the 11 a.m. ceremony Saturday, Aug. 25. Mrs. George Dodd, Jr., played a selection of organ melodies prior to the ceremony and accompanied Walter Sebring in "Oh, Perfect Love" and "Lord, Who At Cananda's Wedding Feast." During the ceremony, he sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride chose a floor length gown of rosepoint lace over silk organza with a scoop neckline. Long sleeves came to points and the wrist. The bouffant skirt of nylon organza featured a peplum effect in hand-cut rosepoint. A tiara of seed pearls and iridescents held her finger. Up veil of imported French silk illusion. She carried a carnation spray on a Bible.

Miss Adele R. Ewe, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a romance blue nylon organza gown with short puff sleeves and Peter Pan collar. It was sashed by a matching pleated cummerbund.

Miss Anita Ewe, sister of the bride, was flower girl. Her ballerina length gown was in romance blue nylon tulle with a scoop neckline and short cap sleeves. A drape from shoulder to hem was shirred into the waistline. Both attendants carried white carnations.

Philip Allengrants, Martinsville, N. J., served as best man. Ushers were Hans Krohn, Bartonsville, and John von Ahn, Ridgefield, N. J. James Huffman was acolyte.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ewe chose a dress of acetate and nylon lace over taffeta in pastel blue. A sweetheart neckline, short sleeves and flared skirt accented the dress. Her accessories were white.

Mrs. Beck wore a dress of beige silk with a square neckline and cap sleeves. A ruffled yoke accented to neckline. Her accessories were in French blue.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for 50 guests was held at the Rhineland Inn, Swiftwater. A tiered wedding cake was the centerpiece for the bride's table.

For a wedding tour to Lake George, N. Y., Mrs. Beck wore a light blue dress with white accessories. They are making their home in Bartonsville.

The bride is a graduate of Chestnut Hill High School and high honor graduate of East Stroudsburg State College in January. She is presently a teacher in Pleasant Valley Joint Schools.

Mr. Beck is a graduate of Hollidaysburg High School and a senior at East Stroudsburg State College. He will graduate in January.

MISS Betty Lou Sebring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sebring, 421 Shook Ave., Stroudsburg, graduated from the Methodist Hospital School of Nursing in Philadelphia, Sept. 14, with a class of 24 students.

Nuisance Meal?

Good Breakfast Menu Starts Good Day

By Linda Pipher
Daily Record Home Economist

During breakfast yesterday morning Billy had three calls instructing him to bring his squirt gun, pea shooter, and apples to Payne's house for the big battle they had been planning all week. He didn't appreciate my insisting on his drinking his milk first. As he swallowed the milk gulp he was half way toward the door when I demanded, "Is your face clean?"

In disgust he answered, "Oh, Mommy, what difference does it make? We're going to have a war, not a party!" With one swoop of his sleeve across his mouth, he was off. Breakfasts tend too often to be a nuisance meal, though they shouldn't be, for children and adults need a good breakfast for a good start in the day. I was pleased with the selection of Miss America this year until I read a statement of hers the following day in the paper.

In order to lose weight in high school she skipped breakfast and lunches; I grumbled as I read the account and I'll bet every home economist in the country groaned with me. If there's one thing home economics teachers stress during the study of nutrition, it's the wise selection of calories to lose weight. They emphasize the harm of skipping meals, for the loss of food energy causes mental fatigue.

Your child needs a good breakfast in order to think clearly for the day. Even though it has to be a hurry-up affair, it can still be appetizing and nutritious.

For a treat, serve a coffee cake from one of the many mixes on the market, or make your own. If you don't have time in the morning to bake (and who does?), bake when you do have time, freeze it, set it out the night before and warm in the oven while the family is dressing.

Streusel - Filled Coffee Cake

Mix thoroughly:
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup soft shortening
1 egg
1/4 cup milk
Stir together and stir in:
1 1/2 cups sifted All-Purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
Spread half of batter in a greased and floured 9" square pan. Sprinkle with half of this Streusel Mixture:
Mix together:
1/2 cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons flour
2 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoon butter, melted
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Add remaining batter, and sprinkle remaining Streusel over top. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven for 25 to 35 minutes.

Instead of always serving orange juice, try something different. Cranberry juice cocktail will give you the needed Vitamin C; serve it as is from the bottle or mix it half and half with another fruit juice or even frozen lemonade for a special treat. Add milk or cocoa for the children along with a piece of your coffee cake, and they have a light, but nutritious breakfast.

For the male members of the family, a heavier breakfast is needed. Pictured above is a platter of bacon that's always tasty; in the background is a gold mine of nutrition that would make a wonderful brunch on Sunday morning.

Gold Diggers' Potatoes With Bacon

1 pound bacon, cooked
3 medium red skinned potatoes, cooked
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup chopped fresh parsley
1/2 cup shredded cheddar cheese
Cut unpared cooked potatoes into 1/4 inch slices. Melt butter in 10" skillet. Arrange potatoes in single layer in skillet. Beat together eggs, milk, salt, and pepper. Pour over potatoes. Cover; cook over low heat for 15 minutes. Uncover and place under broiler until top is browned, about 2 or 3 minutes. Turn upside down on round plate. Sprinkle with mixture of parsley and cheese. Serve with crisp bacon.

Baked apples taste good for breakfast. I like to fix them the night before, put them in the oven and set it automatically so that I awaken to the luscious smell of apples baking, and they

Lutheran Women Plan Projects For Church Aid

The Lutheran Church Women of St. John's Lutheran Church, Stroudsburg, entertained the Lutheran Church Women of St. Paul's, Tannersville, and Grace Lutheran Church of East Stroudsburg, with approximately fifty in attendance, Sept. 11.

It was announced that a meeting will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 36 S. 8th St., Allentown, on Oct. 16 for the purpose of revising the Constitution of the Lutheran Church Women. Those wishing to attend the sessions may contact Mrs. Edward Steinhauer, 421-7244.

Bags are to be made for the Monroe County Council of Churches and are to be filled with various articles. Mrs. Edna Bush was appointed in charge of this project. Mrs. John Korner and Mrs. Sophie Hardenstine were appointed to represent the U.L.C.W. of St. John's at the meetings of the Monroe County Council of Churches.

Mrs. Warren Mikels presented a new project which was accepted unanimously to save coupons for the purpose of securing stainless steel settings for the church.

"Freedom, Our Christian Heritage" was the topic presented by Mrs. Korner, assisted by Mrs. Jesse James. It dealt with religious freedom as Christians, political freedom as citizens, the application of Christian freedom and the miss-use of freedoms.

Mrs. Steinhauer, president, commented on the fact that the neglect of most people to write to their congressmen when a difference of opinion occurs on important or lesser important matters, can be most detrimental inasmuch as those in public office depend on public opinion to guide them.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Korner, Mrs. Edward Yost, Mrs. Philip Henning and Mrs. Jacob Schmidt.

are warm for breakfast. Try these either hot or cold:

Apples In Maple Syrup
6 baking apples, peeled and cored
1/2 cup maple syrup
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter

Quarter the apples and arrange in shallow butter pan 12"x8 1/2"x2". Pour the syrup over them and sprinkle with salt and dot with butter. Bake in 350-degree oven for about 45 minutes, basting occasionally with syrup.

For a special surprise, put a dab of vanilla ice cream on top, and there will be no breakfast blues at your house that morning!

Mrs. Noel OES Officers Club Meet Hostess

Newfoundland — Mrs. Ivy Noel, of Canadensis, entertained members of the Eastern Star Officer's Club of Newfoundland at a meeting when future plans for monthly projects were discussed.

A donation of $75 was presented to Mrs. Estella Christman, treasurer of Greene-Dreher Chapter 296, OES, for the chapter's Anniversary Fund.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to the following: Mrs. Valeda Stevens, Mrs. Margaret Oberly, Mrs. Lillian Akers, Mrs. Estella Christman, Mrs. Camilla Bloss, Mrs. Erma Meyers, and Miss Yvonne Noel.

The next meeting will be held on Monday, October 15 at the home of Mrs. Camilla Bloss.

Stress Purity At Food Fair Exposition

Foreign food executives from 30 nations were introduced to a single idea, "Pure Food — USA", rather than the myriad American farm products available for export, by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in its exhibit at the Fifth International Food Congress and Exposition, held recently in New York.

A departure from the usual commodity approach used at trade fairs around the world by the Department's Foreign Agricultural Service, where food items are introduced with an eye toward expanding markets, "Pure Food — USA" explains the role federal agencies play to assure purity and quality of American foods — not only for domestic use, but for foreign consumption as well.

Soon to be shown abroad, the display is sponsored by the Foreign Agricultural Service, Agricultural Research Service, and Agricultural Marketing Service, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and the Food and Drug Administration, of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Exhibit director, Print Hudson of the Foreign Agricultural Service pointed out that homemakers abroad show the same concern as American counterparts regarding the safety, quality, and nutritional value of foods they buy. For this reason, he noted foreign food merchants and manufacturers showed deep interest in the techniques made by government agencies in assuring that American products are as they are purported to be — pure, safe and good. And thus making it possible to export U. S. foods with confidence.

Significantly, 60 West German food executives, representing ED EKA, a chain of 41,000 cooperative stores, made a studied tour of the "Pure Food — USA" exhibit.

EDEKA boasts a 30 percent share of the retail food sales in West Germany, and is considered one of the largest single market outlets for American food products in Europe. West Germany is the fourth largest importer of U. S. agricultural commodities, behind Canada and the United Kingdom, but led by Japan.

Since West Germany is the leading buyer of poultry products, EDEKA representatives showed interest in the Department of Agriculture's mandatory inspection for wholesomeness required for poultry moving in interstate and foreign commerce.

A mechanical "thumb", designed by the Agricultural Marketing Service to determine maturity of certain fruit without bruising or damaging, drew comment from United Kingdom visitors. A merchant claimed that it appeared to usurp the shoppers' inalienable right to do her own "squeezing" to determine that "just right" feel. Actually, the "thumb", a new research development, is intended for use primarily in routine inspection and grading operations.

The development of new products to expand domestic and foreign markets, as shown in the exhibit, also evoked interest. Canadian visitors noted that potato flakes, developed by the USDA's Agricultural Research Service, are now being processed and marketed in major cities.

Of major concern to foreign food manufacturers was the use of chemicals in agriculture and food processing. Questions dealing with additives, tolerances, and prescribed application of chemicals and pesticides were frequently asked of Food and Drug specialists at the exhibit.

No Maternity Leave For Shari Lewis, Puppeteer

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

New York (AP) — Orange-haired, mite-sized Shari Lewis is frenetic proof that a new, less prudish attitude towards the pregnant woman exists today.

A quarter of a century ago women curtailed public life when their figures began to betray their secret. For men, in their presence, seemed embarrassed, over solicitous and very nervous.

Although women even now are extremely careful about strenuous exercise and usually quit their jobs after the fifth month, 28-year-old Shari did not slow down or get out of the TV camera eye simply because she was expecting a baby.

The talented singer, actress, story teller, mimic, magician, ventriloquist, puppeteer, musician, and dancer indefatigably went right on doing all these things before a predominantly youthful audience until eight days before her baby girl's birth.

"It never occurred to me to do anything else," says Shari obviously perplexed that anyone still harbored an idea that a so-called delicate condition called for temporary obscurity.

Clever Disguises

"I stopped dancing at the end of six months. But the doctor said my body was used to it and it would be better if I went on doing the things I was used to."

So the girl who refers to herself as the nation's baby-sitter went right on kicking, prancing and bounding around the TV stage, hiding her changing figure under a barrel, under a felt Red Riding Hood cloak, or behind a fence.

"I never wore a maternity dress the whole time," she says with obvious pride. Her personal wardrobe consisted of fashionable A-line dresses that she now wears with belts. "I adore them."

Besides rehearsals, tapings and planning sessions for her prize-winning children's programs, Shari also managed to find time to write a book (which her husband Jeremy Tarcher is publishing), and to record an album.

What About Dad?

Jeremy met Shari when he tried to lure her to a competing TV station he worked for at the time. That sales talk failed. But he did win the petite personality as his wife in 1956.

Was he alarmed at his wife's vigorous activity and her frantic work pace as first-time fathers-to-be are wont to do? "He didn't try to suppress or limit me the whole time, for which I am very grateful," answers the new mother.

But did he worry? Shari's reply is evasive. "He's a wonderful man."

Bored Moments

The talented young mother is now thoroughly convinced that keeping busy in some way is essential to a pregnant woman's well being.

"Those few days that I stayed home before the baby was born were the longest, most boring of my life."

Now Baby Mallory's presence in the house makes Shari's days even longer, but certainly not boring. Despite a full time nurse, Shari takes over the feedings twice a day, and other tasks without easing up on her professional work load either. A million youngsters charmed by her hand puppets, Lamb Chop, Charlie Horse, Hush Puppy and Wing Ding among others, probably envy Baby Mallory.

Maybe Mallory's famous mother will tell her stories and keep her amused with puppets as she grows up, but Shari won't sing lullabies.

"I don't like them. Children get bored with them. Anyway some are frightening. Take 'Rockabye Baby in the tree top.' Imagine how a child must feel to hear that 'Down will come baby, cradle and all.'"

"Right now I just lean over the crib and coo, 'Hello Mallory,' and at the sound of her name she smiles very broadly."

As with any proud mother, there is a big, broad smile on Shari's well-known face as she talks about it.

Common Sense Beauty Hints

If you apply a face cream and massage before going to bed — and it's a good idea to keep your skin supple and help it retain moisture — easy does it. A light helping of cream and a light massage are all you need.

But, there is no reason to retire with a film of cream covering your face. In twenty minutes, your skin will absorb all of the cream it needs. The benefit of twenty minutes is just as great to your skin as is ten hours of cream. So, after twenty minutes or so, tissue off your skin. It'll eliminate that greased-pig look and save your sheets and pillowcase.

Shampoo your hair brushes just as often as you shampoo your hair. Comb loose hair and dirt from the brushes and dip them up and down in a basin of warm water to which a few drops of ammonia have been added.

Freckles are considered piquant touches of beauty by many women, but if you're bothered by freckles, try using a tinted makeup base that is a shade about halfway between that of your skin and that of the freckles. After your freckles have been covered, blot the makeup base with tissue, then set it with dusting powder.

Dry skin does not mean skin that is lacking in oils, as some people think, but skin that is lacking in moisture. If you have a dry skin problem, try hand and body lotions which are specially designed to moisten skin and provide a moisture-retaining action for 24 hours.

How do you tell whether your hair is normal? Sometimes it may seem dry, at other times oily. Here are a few characteristics that determine what is called normal hair: If you have no persistent problems of dryness or excessive oiliness. If your hair stays clean for about a week under normal conditions. If it is easily brushed into shininess without oiliness. Then, you have normal hair.

Tranquilizers Aid Naturalist's Survey

Nairobi, Kenya (AP) — The hyrax is found all over Kenya and in many other parts of Africa. But science doesn't know much about the nifty little fellow.

John Sale, Nairobi zoologist, has devoted the last three years to the study of the hyrax family, but until last month most of his research was done by telescope. The oversensitive animals died almost immediately after capture.

"If they were human beings I would say they were neurotics of the worst sort," Sale said. "As for animals, I don't know what to call it. Each time I caught a hyrax it immediately died of shock."

On his last expedition to Mt. Kenya, however, Sale tried tranquilizers. He gave three captured hyrax small tablets — not daring to give an injection for fear the sight of the syringe might prove fatal to the animals. All of them survived and are living in a cage at his Nairobi apartment.

To the layman, the dark brown, thickly furred animals seem to be just what their popular name calls them — rock rabbits. According to their genetics, however, the next-of-kin of the two-foot-long hyrax is the elephant.

This surprising classification is based on a variety of characteristics the hyrax has in common with the elephant: instead of claws, he has hoofs; instead of incisors and canines, a pair of miniature tusks protrude from the upper jaw; only one or two young are born per litter; and the gestation period is said to be 7 1/2 months long.

The grouping was further supported when the fossils of prehistoric hyrax were found in Kenya, which were as big as a pig.

Science does not know yet why the hyrax have shrunk in size so drastically but this seems to have been the case with a number of animals in Africa.

Sale thinks it might have something to do with the decreasing influence of radiation over millions of years. The hyrax of Mt. Kenya, living in altitudes around 15,000 feet where the sun's rays contain considerably more ultraviolet light, are still about twice the size of those found in the lowlands.

The three hyrax which live now on a Nairobi balcony, studied closely for the first time by Sale and his students, may reveal a few more facts about prehistoric life. Among other things, Sale wants to explore whether the hyrax is related to a sea animal, the dugong — the mermaid of mariners' yarns.

If you have trouble in getting an even distribution of nuts or fruits (or both) in a cake, try folding in the nuts or fruits with the last amount of flour.

If your cornstarch pudding won't turn out of its mold and hold its shape, it may be because you haven't allowed enough time for chilling and setting.

WISHING is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 4 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 4, add 4. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Saturday, September 22
March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Better pull away from those flamboyant, extravagant and impractical activities or interests because you are swamped under. Have spirit, you don't know exactly where it is leading you.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Venus, favorably aspected, indicates more room for extension, which automatically demands that brakes be tested. Increased complexities come with increased advantages, more responsibilities with affluence.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Certainly a mixed-type day, with "yes, I must," and "no, I dare not," sometimes causing conflict. When to reply, which is the big decision. Take your time — but don't fall asleep.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — A lot of activity, and not all of it pleasing. But this is normal in a well-regulated life. Approach each innovation as though it were yesterday's old chore and you will feel easier.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Be carefully scrutinizing, but do not detect flaws, not to feed suspicion. Enjoy the children, the outdoors, exercise, gain a new outlook through the little joys. If traveling, use care.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — If adaptability, imagination and discernment are wisely directed, you and others whom you influence will draw readily on success patterns. No day for dawdling.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — You who quickly grasp situations and the idiosyncrasies of your fellowmen should not be dismayed at a few odd-ball tendencies now. But you must not get testiest, and in a stable manner to counteract. Don't just sit on the sidelines.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio) — These call for thoughtful handling, clever juggling in spots. Sounding "for fun," agreements, managing children and money matters. Be vigilant but not anxious.

November 24 to December 21 (Sagittarius) — You are just about left on your own now to decide on the means to gain benefits, how to put efforts to get the most with the least expenditure. Deliberation and conclusions must be accurate.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn) — You will wind up in the red on your balance sheet if you do not begin to think and function competently right from the start. A feeble word, an idle mind reacts disturbingly. Not for you!

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius) — Heavily so about duties and obligations, but as eagerly wait for new instructions and hints for the tricky spots. Interest others with your voice.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) — Here are — day's winners — a walk, humility, modesty, discretion, self-discipline. If you avoid extremes you will have a satisfactory day.

YOU BORN TODAY? Method and order, respect for laws and the rights of others and dignity all combine to make you a tried co-worker, employee, O.H. superior, where your fair play helps to keep everyone enthusiastic about his work. The total good you could be handicapped by overwork and being criticized. Take on what you can do well, say "sorry, but no" to the rest. Many architects, inventors, sailors, dramatists, doctors, nurses and confidential secretaries were born in this sector. Birthdays: Michael Faraday, chemist, physicist.

Jewish New Year Is Time Of Spiritual Reckoning

By Rabbi Maurice N. Eisen-drath, President of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations (Congregational body of 610 Reform, Conservative, and Orthodox synagogues, Canada, Panama, and the Dutch West Indies with membership over one million.) Jewish new year starts at sundown Friday, Sept. 28 and continues to sunset, Sept. 29.

The Jewish New Year is a time of spiritual reckoning in the sense that our words are weighed against our deeds. The high sentiments which we gave voice one year ago must be tested now against our actions. We have made strides towards the conquest of space.

But what have we done here on earth to set our own house in order? The spectre of war still threatens the world, Brother looks suspiciously upon brother. We continue to segregate each other and even ourselves. With raised fists we speak of peace. And the well-fed continue to close their eyes to shut out the sight of the hungry.

Once more in this season the slate is wiped clean and we are given another portion of time in which to make good the pledges and promises of the new year. We will be judged, however, not by our lofty words, not by the prettiest speeches or pre-set prayers, but once more by our actions.

It is up to every man by the work of his hands in the year ahead to bring this conflict-ridden world nearer to peace, and closer to a state of civilization. Sending up rockets will not bring us nearer to heaven. Only our deeds, man to man on solid earth, can help us to approach that ideal state.

The Shofar
In ancient times, the Shofar was used chiefly for signals and alarms. Specifically in war, it would assemble the army, signal attack, stop pursuit, and signal dismissal or return to home. The Shofar was also used to proclaim important events, such as the crowning of a king and the announcement of the new moon upon which the calendar is based.

The ram's horn was first blown with long blasts at the beginning of each month. Then it was blown in preparation for the High Holy Days, from the first of Elul through the first of Tishri (beginning of Rosh Hashonah) until Yom Kippur, ten days later.

With the Shofar's use in the High Holy Day season, a lasting significance developed. The mighty rolling and stirring sound took on a meaning felt to be a divine summons to repentance and improvement.

This feeling arose because Rosh Hashonah was regarded as the earnest consecration beginning of the Ten Days of Penitence ending with Yom Kippur. This was the time when mankind was judged in heaven and man's fate was settled. Blowing the Shofar, the basic interpretation states, was a means of asking God to remember man.

Philo, a Greco-Jewish philosopher, read two symbolic thoughts into the custom: thanksgiving to God who halts wars between nations and struggles among the elements, and who brings peace and harmony to the world.

Another interpretation maintains that the Shofar was blown in order to confuse Satan who believed the Messiah had arrived and the end of his power on earth had come.

NOWHERE

The road pictured here bears the time-worn marks of many travellers. Apparently it leads to some distant village or serves perhaps as a link between more vital thoroughfares.

But in reality this road does neither. Once, no doubt, it had a destination, but today it fades away into the woods a few miles beyond—a "dead end."

How many lives are like this road? They have promising beginnings, but instead of continuing to worthwhile goals, they wander aimlessly to final dead ends.

The Church teaches us to build useful lives and guides us toward noble achievements and ambitions. Regular attendance at church services gives greater assurance that our pathway of life will not lead us astray. On the contrary, it leads straight to the house of the peaceful mind and the contented heart.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mountaineers Lose To Emmaus, 33-18

EMMAUS — An injury-riddled Stroud Union team felt easy victims last night to a strong Emmaus eleven which seemingly could do nothing wrong on its way to a 33-18 victory.

Playing without the services of Halfback Tom Schatzman, Fullback Don Baylor and Center Austin Kelsner, the Mountaineers of Coach Jerry Stulgaitis were hopelessly outclassed and out-manned from the very start.

Sloppy ballhandling by the Stroud Union eleven also hurt their cause as they fumbled five times during the contest.

Strikes Quickly

The game got off on a sour note for the Mountaineers on the very first kickoff when Glen Bisbing fumbled the kick, and allowed Emmaus to take over on the Stroudsburg 30.

Emmaus took quick advantage of the scoring opportunity, taking but six plays to score with Bill Trotter hauling in an Adrian Berian aerial for 12 yards into pay dirt. The tally came with only two minutes, 35 seconds gone in the tilt.

Bangor Loses To Catasaqua, 19-0

BANGOR — Bangor High batted a zero in the offensive department and was left behind by Catasaqua High 19-0 at Memorial Park Stadium last night.

The Slaters compiled a net gain of only 35 yards from scrimmage and had to depend on two 15-yard penalties for their only first downs. Catasaqua, meanwhile, moved the ball to three touchdowns and also controlled it most of the evening.

At that, however, the Iron

Borough organized just one sustained drive, launching it midway in the first and culminating it at the start of the second.

Set up by Barry Simmers' 2-yard punt return to the 15, it thrived on the running of Bob Zirinsky, Dennis Fehnel and Bill Lapsansky and a couple of killing plays enroute.

Initial Crusher

The initial crusher was applied after a half-dozen trusts worked Catasaqua out to its 41. On third and 9, Ed Solderitch hauled in a shot from Simmers and reached Bangor's 45. A play later Lapsansky, on a reverse, charged 21 yards to the 19. Then Fehnel, faking a reverse, carried to the 9.

This blended in forcing open the door and Simmers, on third down, pushed through from the 5. Gerald Martz added another play via placement.

Outside of a sparkling 34-yard runback of the kickoff by Bill Yeager, Bangor, offered little punch during the balance of the half. Even help, offered by Brian LaBar's late interception of a Simmers' pass on Catty's 35, didn't quickly.

Bangor virtually retreated into a score for the opposition in the third.

First, it fumbled away possession on the 24 in trying a criss-cross on a punt return. The initiative was regained on the 11 by Dick Pozzuto's pass interception but another loss on a pass play that never got off left the Maroon in danger from the goal-line. Pozzuto's punt barely got away and Catasaqua, back in business on the 9, moved from there, with Simmers sneaking across from the 2 on last down.

Rhodes' placement struck the crossbar and bounced back unsuccessful.

Zirinsky's interception had the Riders knocking again moments later. Picking off a Jim Dietz pitch on Bangor's 20 and plunging to the 14, he left the rest of the advance up to his mates, who retrieved 20 yards in damaging penalties with a screen, Simmers to Fehnel, that won a first down on the 2. Fehnel and Simmers picked up the remaining distance, with the former counting from about one-half yard out. Rhodes' boot was blocked.

The fourth failed to produce any action of note. Catty made a late strike, from midfield to emerged with a fumble recovery on the 43 in the closing seconds and play expired on that spot.

Nicklaus Is Penalized
PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus, the leader in the $25,000 Portland Open Golf Tournament, was penalized two strokes Friday for slow play.

Tournament supervisor Joe Black said he had warned Nicklaus, Bruce Crampton and Billy Casper Jr. about slow play on the ninth hole. Black said Nicklaus made no effort to speed up the game and the penalty was imposed.

Pius X Set For Marian

ROSETO — Coach Vince Shemanski has been utilizing the one-week layout of his Pius X Royals to working on the "physical and mental mistakes" of their opening game loss to Bristol for an 18-13 count.

Tomorrow, the Royals travel to Marian where they hope to keep alive a four-game win skein against the Colts who already own victories over Lansford and Shamokin Catholic.

"They've never beaten us," Shemanski noted last night, "but I'm afraid of the law of averages."

Inexperience Costly

It was inexperience which cost the Pius X eleven the ballgame against Bristol and Shemanski has been working on some of the fundamentals of the game with his squad during the last two weeks.

Three areas of concentration by Shemanski has been the timing of passes, offensive blocking and tackling by the defensive unit. It is in these areas, Shemanski says, "where our inexperience has been showing."

The Royals mentor is "fairly satisfied" with his passing game while he is emphasizing what he terms "power running" for his ground attack.

'Cloud Of Dust'

As he puts it: "We don't have the blinding speed so we are concentrating on power running where we can pick up three yards in a cloud of dust."

Although his inexperienced line was most evident in the opener, Shemanski was nonetheless still quite pleased with the line play in the second half when the Royals garnered both their touchdowns.

Meanwhile, the Marian team pose a problem for tomorrow's game since the Colts are rated one of the most improved clubs in that area.

'A Fine Team'

"They have a fine team," says Shemanski, "probably their best in five years."

The Royals pilot plans to go along with the same lineup he used in his opener two weeks ago. This will be Tom Sapone and Lou "Capozzolo" at ends; Steve Ferrazzano and Ben Massneri at tackles; Jeff Brusie and John Falcone at guards; and Frank Bartoli at center.

Richard Fusakio will again quarterback the team with John Ruciatto and Dean Dapkevicz at the halfbacks and Steve Zegalai at fullback.

Math Wizard Counts '10' Over Patton

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Labor Harris Jr., a fuz-checked mathematics wizard from Oklahoma, counted 10 and out over heavily favored Billy Joe Patton Friday and swept into the finals of the 62nd U.S. Amateur Golf Championship against insurance salesman Downing Gray of Pensacola, Fla.

The 20-year-old Harris, 6-3, 185-pound power-hitting son of the Oklahoma State U. golf coach, fought off one Patton charge after another and scored a 3 and 1 victory over the 40-year-old Morgan, N.C., lumberman who was making his 13th try for the national championship he's never won.

7 Up Lead

Gray, 24-year-old Florida State U. graduate built a 7 up lead after 25 holes, then held off the desperate rally of Air Force Lt. Charles Coady of Fort Worth, Tex., 3 and 2.

Harris, who holds a bachelors degree in math at Oklahoma State despite his tender age, built a three-hole lead over Patton, the Tar Heel favorite, on the morning 18 holes. He blew it all at the start of the afternoon round, and then fought back brilliantly after Patton once again had challenged him on the pressure-packed closing holes.

Golf Growing

So it'll be a couple of youngsters who've met on their golf travels only once before in Saturday's 36-hole championship match at the 7,051-yard, par 36-36-72 No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club. It also is one more indication of the way collegiate golf has grown in recent years in producing the nation's new players.

Both Harris and Gray are veterans of collegiate competition—although neither has won any titles.

'Could Be A Madhouse'

Huge Spectator Fleet Swarms To Cup Race

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — The largest spectator fleet ever to follow a yacht race—a flotilla of 3,000 vessels with a cargo of 50,000 fans, including President and Mrs. Kennedy—is expected to swarm into the Atlantic Saturday for the fourth America's Cup clash between Weatherly and Gretel.

"It could be a madhouse," said a U.S. Coast Guard spokesman last Friday. "If it's a good day, you'll be able to walk across the bay without getting your shoes wet."

To meet the situation, the Coast Guard has brought down additional boats from Boston to reinforce its cutter patrol and has warned of fines up to $500 for persons violating the race area. The start of last Saturday's race was delayed an hour by unruly spectator craft.

The camps of the defender Weatherly and the gritty Australian challenger, Gretel, both enjoying an off day, appeared more concerned about the potential spectator fleet than the possible weather.

"A turnout that big is bound to affect the race," said Emil Bus Mosbacher, weatherly's skipper. "However, I think the Australians were bothered more last Saturday, than we were."

The spectator boats, ranging from huge excursion liners to motor runabouts, kick up a "slop" on the course and often stray to near the racers.

Jock Sturrock, the tanned helmsman of Gretel, asked an observer at dockside about spectator estimates for Saturday.

"They say there were 2,000 boats of all kinds on the water last Saturday," he was told. "They are looking for at least 1,000 more."

Sturrock winced.

Equally discouraging from the Australian standpoint was the weather forecast which calls for gently, variable winds in the morning followed by southwesterly breezes in the afternoon freshening to 12 to 18 miles an hour.

Moderate Airls
These are moderate airs. The Australians, beaten in two of the first three races in the best-of-seven series, need heavy weather—winds to 20 knots and above.

The fourth race, like the second won by Gretel by a margin of 47 seconds, will be over a 24-mile triangular course—the first eight miles upwind, followed by two reaches of eight miles each. Starting time is 11:10 a.m. EST.

18 Fillies, Mares Entered In $75,000 Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK (AP) — Eighteen fillies and mares, including every leading candidate for championship honors in the 3-year-old and the older division, were entered Friday for the $75,000-added Belmont Stakes at Aqueduct Saturday.

The 4-year-old Primonetta and the 3-year-old Bramalea, both from the Darby Dan Farm of John W. Galbreath, are listed as the favored entry at 5-2. Braulio Baeza rides Primonetta, with Ismael Valenzuela piloting Bramalea. Both won their last starts, Bramalea annexing the Gazelle Stakes.

Listed At 4-1
Meadow Stable's Cicada, top contender for the 3-year-old title, and two older mares — Shirley Jones and Linita — are listed as the second choices at 4-1. Mrs. John O. Burgwin's Shirley Jones and the D. C. Stable's Linita will be an entry. Shirley Jones won the Maskette Handicap by a neck over Linita Sept. 5.

E. Barry Ryan's Firm Policy, King Ranch's Tamarora and Mymy H. Barnes' Lincoln Involved are the other 3-year-olds entered. Firm Policy, who upset Cicada in Saratoga's Alabama, is in the thick of the title chase with Cicada and Bramalea.

The other older contestants are George D. Widener's Seven

Thirty, Bert W. Martin's Rose O'Neill, Elmendorf Farm's Oil Song, Pin Oak Stable's Play Time, the C. V. Whitney triple entry of Counter Call, Fun House and Honey Deer, Raymond Faciolio's Colony Flyer and Barbara Hunter's Kootenai. The older horses carry 123 pounds, with 118 for the 3-year-olds under weight-for-age conditions.

With 18 starters the race will gross $91,500, with $59,475 for the winner.

Manuel Yacaza, reinstated by the Illinois Racing Board, rides Rose O'Neill, with Willie Shoemaker aboard Cicada. Bill Boland is up on Linita, Johnny Sellers rides Firm Policy. Donald Pierce has Shirley Jones, Johnny Rotz is on Kootenai, and Larry Adams rides Seven Thirty.

Warriors Play Columbia

USING AN open date to excellent advantage, Coach Jack Gregory's East Stroudsburg State College Warriors traveled to New York City last night for an afternoon exhibition game today against Columbia's Lions at Baker Field. Kickoff time is 2 p.m.

Gregory jumped at the opportunity to get in this exhibition contest because, as he said, "It's difficult when you have an open date so early in the year." The Warriors opened their '62 campaign last Saturday night against a strong Montclair State College unit which had won 16 of its last 18 encounters. ESSC tarnished that record a bit by scoring a 29-20 win on the East Stroudsburg High School field.

Eye On West Chester
Pointing toward what should be the critical game of the season for the Warriors — the clash at West Chester next Saturday night — Gregory says "You just can't have too long a layoff in between ballgames."

"We're looking at this (today's) game as one which can be beneficial to us in keeping everybody sharp and the timing right," he added.

Coach Buff Donelli, meanwhile, has just returned this week from the Lions' football camp with his squad and will be using today's meeting with ESSC as a good preparatory game for their upcoming opener against Brown next week.

Rotate Lineup
While Gregory plans to rotate his lineup "quite a lot" using all members of the squad, the Warrior mentor also will be using a good part of our game plan for the West Chester game using regulars.

Also included in Gregory's plans is the use of a "fairly balanced attack," meaning a combination of running and passing against the Lions. "We also hope to get an opportunity to kick as much as possible," Gregory noted, "since we didn't get a chance to punt against Montclair."

In Columbia, ESSC will be facing a veteran, well-organized unit including the likes of Tony Day, an All-East guard, and Fullback Tom O'Connor, Columbia's leading ground gainer last year.

Doesn't Plan To Win
"We certainly don't expect to win," Gregory smilingly commented, "but in exhibition games like this, the score is secondary to both teams to the way the ball is handled and the plays are run. The real important aspect of such a game as this is to keep the boys sharp and their timing right."

The team stayed last night at Columbia's King Crown Hotel in New York City. Today, the Warriors will arrive at Baker Field at noon following their morning training meal, and return later this evening following their post-game meal.

Eight Top Teams See Action Today

By JACK CLARY

The 1962 college football season zooms off the launching pad Saturday with all the thrust that can be mustered by having eight of the nation's top ten teams in action, topped by a possible Rose Bowl preview between Purdue's Boilermakers and the Washington Huskies.

Only Ohio State, figured the No. 1 team in The Associated Press' pre-season poll, and its Big Ten rival Michigan State (No. 4) will be idle this weekend. Both get down to business next Saturday.

A dozen or more new head coaches will get their baptism of fire, including Louisiana State's Charlie McClendon, Paul Dietzel at Army, Hank Folch at Texas A&M, Charlie Bradshaw at Kentucky, Bud Davis at Colorado and Lloyd Eaton at Wyoming.

Longhorns Home
The baptism doesn't end there, either. Texas' Longhorns, rated No. 2, are at home to Oregon State in a night game and their Southwest Conference aspirations will get a solid test from the Webfoots' well-balanced attack.

So will Alabama's defending national champions, ranked No. 3. Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide takes on tough Georgia in a night game at home, minus some of the stars of their 10-0 1961 season.

McClendon's LSU Tigers (No. 5) also open under the lights at home against Folchberg's Aggies, while the Duke Blue Devils, favored to repeat as Atlantic Coast Conference champs, are in Los Angeles to play the University of Southern California. The game will be televised nationally (CBS-TV, 3:30 p.m. EST).

Eastern Title
The Eastern title may be decided in one fell swoop when ninth-ranked Penn State hosts the Navy. They are rated 1-2 in the East.

But Purdue (No. 7) and Washington (No. 5) could have the day's biggest battle. The Boilermakers have an all-veteran team — one that missed by only 10 points of turning three losses into a 9-0 record in 1961.

The Huskies, figured to battle with Southern California for the Big Six' Rose Bowl berth, have speedster Charlie (The Missile) Mitchell operating behind a big veteran line and backed by fullback Jim Stiger.

Severe Test
Quarterback Mel Renfro and tackle Steve Barnett will put Texas to a severe test, but the Longhorns still have fullback Ray Poage and halfback Jerry Cook as returning offensive guns.

Bama lost fullback Mike Frachia for the year with a knee injury, but Bryant's men are favored to overwhelm Georgia. Jerry Stovall and soph Danny LeBlanc, a sophomore, head McClendon's LSU offense while Duke also will present a pair of whizzes in halfbacks Jay Wilkinson and Mark Leggett in its battle against USC.

Middies Injured
Roger Kochman, its veteran halfback, and end Dave Robinson head Penn State's defending Lambert Trophy forces. Navy has been plagued with injuries during its training season and will have top halfback Johnny Sai for limited duty only because of injuries and sickness.

Dietzel sends his revamped Army forces against Wake Forest while Bradshaw's Kentucky team plays Florida State at home under the lights. Colorado, given little chance of keeping the Big Eight title, plays a night game at Utah minus most of its 1961 team through graduation and ineligibility. Wyoming, co-champs of the defunct Skyline loop, play New Mexico in the new Western Athletic Conference that combines teams of the Skyline and Border Conferences.

In top action in the South, Southern Methodist travels to Maryland, sixth ranked-Mississippi plays Memphis State at night. Florida faces Mississippi State at night. Georgia Tech is host to Clemson and North Carolina and North Carolina State meet.

Syracuse is at Oklahoma, Texas Christian at Kansas, South Carolina at Northwestern, and Oklahoma State at Arkansas in Midwest-Southwest intersectional activity, while on the West Coast, Missouri travels to California and Iowa State to Oregon, while Colorado State U. meets Air Force.

Penn State-Middies Today

By DAVE LEHERR
UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Penn State's Nittany Lions kick off their 1962 football season Saturday afternoon against highly touted Navy in a battle that could decide right off who's best in the East.

Game time is scheduled for 1:30 p. m., EDT, with pre-game ceremonies at Beaver Stadium getting under way approximately one hour earlier.

The weather forecast calls for cloudy skies and brisk 60 degree temperatures, ideal for football. The Lions and Middies go into the contest rated by the experts as one-two in the annual scramble for the coveted Lambert Trophy, emblematic of eastern college football supremacy. Penn State won it last year.

But as usual, both coaches have their pre-game worries. Rip Engle of Penn State is most concerned about the Lion pass defense, which, he says "hasn't been up to snuff at all this fall."

Navy Coach Wayne Hardin already has indicated the Middies will go to the air a lot in the game, and Engle looks back to last year when they tossed 26 passes in 54 offensive plays.

"We expect them to be fast, well-drilled, with plenty of enthusiasm and hustle," Engle said earlier this week. Hardin seems more optimistic, feeling that defense is the key to Navy's game.

"If we can stop them, we should be able to score enough to beat them," he said.

The Middies of course will be out for revenge for the 20-10 loss to the Lions in last year's opener. However, they hold a 14-10 edge in the overall series between the two schools. Two battles ended in deadlock.

WYNN-ING WAITRESS — Blanche Wynn, mother of Chicago White Sox ace pitcher Early Wynn, serves Paul Grant, inkeeper at Shawnee Inn where Mrs. Wynn has been employed last six seasons.

'300' Worries: Wynn's Mother

SHAWNEE — Blanche Wynn, mother of Early Wynn, Chicago White Sox pitcher, is serving coffee at Fred Waring's Shawnee Inn and Country Club here with shaky hands these days.

She's just about as nervous as she can be hoping and waiting for Early to score his 300th victory in an illustrious major league baseball career.

From the days Early started to follow in his father's footsteps as a pitcher on sandlots in Alabama, his mother, who celebrates her 60th birthday in January, has closely followed his baseball career through three years in the minor leagues, and nine years with Washington, nine years with Cleveland and five years with the White Sox.

It's no wonder she's excited as he stands with 299 major league victories tucked away and on the threshold of his 300th.

"I know it must be a terrible strain on Early," Mrs. Wynn said while serving a guest at Shawnee where she is employed as a waitress during the season.

"Early will be 44 his next birthday, and the longer it takes him to win number 300, the tougher it's going to get."

"He'll do it though," she added. "I've watched him in many games throughout his career, including the world's series games with Cleveland and Chicago, and, he never gives up."

"Mrs. Wynn, exceedingly spry for her 59 years, usually gets into New York when Chicago is playing there.

Asked why she works as a waitress when she has such a famous son Early's mother replied "Early's always been good to me but, I like to keep busy and I like to come North in the summer. Mr. Waring is a wonderful person to work for, Shawnee is a lovely place to be."

"What more could a person want? I'm with nice people, in nice surroundings and a chance to see Early pitch occasionally."

Next month, at the close of the season here Mrs. Wynn returns to her home in Punta Gorda, Florida, where she takes things easy until it's time to come North again.

Finalize Plans For USAC Race

TRENTON, N. J. — Plans are finalized for the 200-mile USAC national championship race for Indianapolis Speedway cars and drivers, set for Sunday at 2:45 p.m. at the New Jersey State Fair Diamond Jubilee.

Race director Sam Nunis has a lineup of 39 entries, the array including many prestige speed merchants in the land. Of this number, 21 will be piloting the $30,000 "500" roadster cars, identical machines from the Indiana raceway.

The Eastern title may be decided in one fell swoop when ninth-ranked Penn State hosts the Navy. They are rated 1-2 in the East.

But Purdue (No. 7) and Washington (No. 5) could have the day's biggest battle. The Boilermakers have an all-veteran team — one that missed by only 10 points of turning three losses into a 9-0 record in 1961.
